Testimonial

I have known and worked with Trevor, in a professional capacity, for over 10 years. I am one of Australia's leading architects in the field of bushfire resilient design. Since knowing Trevor I have also been a research academic at QUT – specializing in bushfire innovations and also a founding member of the Bushfire Building Council of Australia – whom I represented on the rewrite of Australian Standard AS3959-2018. I have also specified a range of TBA Firefly products in my buildings and continue to promote Trevor and TBA Firefly to my industry colleagues – which I do by word of mouth but also by Continued Professional Development (CPD) presentations that I regularly provide to the architecture and design communities.

I deal with many bushfire and fire engineering technicians and professionals – and I can attest, without hesitation, that Trevor is the most dedicated technician in the Australian bushfire resilience industry.

Trevor does not come across as merely a 'salesman' but rather as someone who is not only extremely knowledge about fire and buildings but also is a passionate advocate for life safety, objective research and truthful performance. To me this signifies his innate integrity – that he won't promote a product if it is not fit for purpose. I have found this quality to be somewhat rare in this industry where there is a myriad of (other) questionable products being spruiked by those with equally questionable bonafides.

Indeed, it is welcome relief that this industry has such a strong advocate in Trevor with his uncompromising stance on product compliance.

I have witnessed many of Trevor's oral presentations on behalf of TBA Firefly including at the annual Australian Bushfire Building Conference and at various CPD talks to building certifiers, for example. Trevor is a brilliant communicator – often using his own videos and innovations (such as the TBA Firefly horse blanket) to get across key features of the TBA Firefly suite of products.

I have met Trevor in many different environments, including at his facility here in QLD – he has always been highly engaging, courteous, and extremely professional – he consistently represents the TBA Firefly brand with pride and I believe Trevor has immeasurably raised the profile of TBA Firefly across Australia.

Simply put – for me TBA Firefly in Australia is Trevor Kempster.

Yours sincerely,
